

Short CV Isabel Rubio-Aliaga

Professional Career:

- 10/2012 - present: Senior academic associate, Institute of Physiology, Department of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland.
- 09/2010 – 08/2012: Project Manager and Scientific Expert, Functional Genomics, Nestlé Research Center, Nestec Ltd., Switzerland.
- 03/2007 – 08/2010: Senior Scientist and Project Manager, Molecular Nutrition Group, Technical University of Munich, Germany.
- 10/2003 – 02/2007: Research Associate, Institute of Experimental Genetics, Helmholtz Zentrum Munich, Germany.
- 12/2002 – 08/2003: Post-doctoral Howard Hughes Fellowship, Hematology, Harvard Medical School, Children’s Hospital, Boston, USA.
- 02/2001 – 11/2002: Post-doctoral Bund der Freunde der TUM Fellowship, Molecular Nutrition Group, Technical University of Munich, Germany.

Education:

- 09/2018-09/2019: Continuing education in Statistics and Data Science (courses by MITx and Harvard at edx.org)
- 12/2016: PD (Venia legendi) in Physiology, Faculty of Medicine, University of Zurich, Switzerland.
- 10/1996 – 01/2001: Ph.D. in Biological Sciences (Dr. rer. nat.), Molecular Nutrition Group, Technical University of Munich, Germany.
- 10/1995 – 06/1996: Postgraduate Certificate preliminary to Ph.D. (Tesina de Licenciatura), Pharmacy Faculty, University of Valencia, Spain.
- 09/1994 – 09/1995: Master of Science in Human Nutrition and Metabolism, Department of Medicine, University of Aberdeen, UK.
- 10/1989 – 07/1994: Degree in Pharmacy - Area of Specialization: Clinical Pharmacy, Pharmacy Faculty, University of Valencia, Spain.

Publications and more information (see ORCID)